CARING FOR THE SKIN AT HOME AFTER MDPEN MICRONEEDLING
Your practitioner has chosen to use an MDPen MicroNeedling Device and our proprietary MicroNeedling Serums to offer you the best treatment possible.

WHAT REALLY HAPPENS TO YOUR SKIN DURING A MICRONEEDLING PROCEDURE

Microneedling is also known as Collagen Induction Therapy. It is regarded as a safe, effective, and minimally invasive cosmetic procedure.

During your Microneedling treatment, micro-punctures are created in your skin with the MDPen. These tiny injuries trigger your body’s natural healing abilities by causing various proteins, potassium, fibroblasts, and other growth factors to converge on the site of the “injury.” This process results in rapid collagen production.

Studies have shown that having four microneedling sessions, spaced one month apart, increase collagen and elastin deposits by up to 400%.

As collagen production increases, it causes your skin to plumpen and thicken. The results are a reduction in the appearance of scars, fine lines, and other skin improvements.

HOW TO CARE FOR YOUR SKIN AFTER MICRONEEDLING

Following is a day-by-day view of how your skin may look after treatment and our recommended home skincare regimen.
Caring For the Skin After an MDPen Treatment

TREATMENT DAY: WHAT TO EXPECT?

Your skin may appear red depending on the length of treatment and depth of the needles used.

Do’s and Don’ts

• Do: 2-3 hours following the treatment, gently massage the treatment area with lukewarm water to remove remaining serum and debris. Use the MDPen Hydrating Cleanser to cleanse the area.

• Do: Apply MDPen Hyaluronic Acid Serum or MDPen Copper + HA Mist to the area every 2-3 hours to keep your skin hydrated.

• Do: Before bed, cleanse the skin and apply MDPen Human-Derived Growth Factor Gel so your skin can remain hydrated and nourished throughout the night.

• Don’t: Expose your skin directly to sunlight.

• Don’t: Apply sunscreen.

• Don’t: Apply makeup.

THE NEXT DAY: WHAT TO EXPECT?

Skin may appear to have anywhere from a flushed “glow” to that of a moderate sunburn. Some swelling may be noticeable, and your skin may feel drier or tighter than normal.

Do’s and Don’ts

• Do: Continue to use non-comedogenic serums to moisturize and hydrate your face. The MDPen Pure Hyaluronic Acid Serum can be used to provide maximum hydration and moisturization for all skin types, including oily skin.

• Do: Use MDPen Copper + HA Mist to promote skin healing due to its mineral-rich properties and antimicrobial benefits.

• Do: Use the MDPen Human Growth Factor Gel at night for skin repairing and strengthening effects from Epidermal Growth Factors.

• Do: Begin to incorporate the MDPen treatment serum recommended by your practitioner:
  • MDPen Tighten + Lift Serum for oily, acne-prone skin that shows signs of fine lines and wrinkles, aging, or laxity.
  • MDPen Cellular Renewal Serum for stretch marks, scars, uneven skin tone, or dull complexion.

• Do: Apply a practitioner-approved sunscreen, such as the MDPen SPF 30 Moisturizer.

• Don’t: Use any makeup applicators that have not been sterilized.
DAY 3 AND BEYOND: WHAT TO EXPECT?

Your skin may have turned back to its normal color or appear slightly pink. Swelling will subside. Your skin will continue to improve in the weeks following the treatment.

Do’s and Don’ts

• Do: Return to your regular skincare routine if it is comfortable for you. To design a personalized skincare routine based on your skin type and concerns, click our link below.

• Do: Use the MDPen C+E Brightening Serum in conjunction with products containing Vitamin A, such as the MDPen SPF 30 Moisturizer. Normal amounts of sun exposure are fine with sunscreen.

• Don’t: Use an alcohol-based toner for at least 10 days following the treatment.
